Pirkko Karvonen has worked in film and television production since 1976, when she and her husband Albert Karvonen founded Karvonen Films Ltd. (KF). The team has accumulated more than 20 international awards. Pirkko’s directorial debut occurred in 2001. Her latest film, Peter Sawatzky: Caribou Bronze, follows Manitoba artist Peter Sawatzky as he completes his latest sculpture.

Peter Sawatzky: Life in Bronze closely follows Manitoba artist Peter Sawatzky as he works on his latest larger than life bronze sculpture. Peter takes the viewer through every step of the complicated journey in creating a finished piece of art—from the animal in its native setting, to the process of turning wax into bronze. The film culminates in the unveiling of his dramatic new work of caribou crossing the Seal River. Come and hear this dynamic speaker and see how art and science combine.
