Join Science Outreach –Athabasca as we welcome Andrea Hansen to Athabasca University. Andrea is a violinist, composer and former member of the Toronto Symphony Orchestra. She is the co-founder of “Strings Across the Sky”, a not-for-profit association destined to inspire a passion for learning through the art of fiddling. Hansen returns to Arctic communities annually, volunteering her time and inspiring new musicians. You will be privileged to see a brief performance by Andrea, followed by a documentary “Strings Across the Sky” by film maker Pirkko Karvonen which features Andrea Hansen (premier performance of the documentary) – her life and work with people in the Canadian Arctic, Northern Ontario and Northern Alberta. The film deals with Hansen’s method of teaching and how our body has a memory that we develop with practice.
