presents...
Flying Buffalo: Establishing new bison populations via air transport

Speaker: Wes Olson,
Retired National Park Warden
Date: April 14, 2026
Place: Athabasca University Room
106, Governing Council Chambers,
1 University Drive,
Athabasca, Alberta
Time: 7 PM to 8 PM

Across North America, Asia and Europe wild species are being rematriated into their ancestral lands. These introductions can often be very challenging. Join retired National Park Warden Wes Olson on this journey into some of the world's most remote backcountry and, through the photographic lens of Johane Janelle learn about the challenges of transporting herds of bison into these regions of their former historic range.

Free community event!
